G. O. P. VICTORY AN IMMENSE AVALANCHE

Popular Vote Most Overpowering Of Any Yet Recorded.

Tuesday's election proved to be the most one-sided affair, in so far as it was effected by the Cox ticket, ever staged by the two dominant parties. Kentucky seems to be the only State in the Union, about which there appeared to be any doubt, that failed to give Harding and Coolidge a comfortable plurality. Kentucky is really very close in the Presidential race with prospects favoring the Democrats in the big event, although it appears that Richard P. Ernst has a lead over Beckham for U. S. Senator. Republican Headquarters in Louisville yesterday stated that there was little or no doubt of the result in that race.

Republicans will gain at least ten members in the United States Senate, with many additions to the lower house, capturing several in districts deemed impregnable, heretofore. Tennessee, in addition to breaking away from the solid South in the presidential contest, elected a Republican Governor by a handsome majority.

Illinois, closed as doubtful by Democrats, before the election gave Harding and Coolidge a plurality in excess of 800,000. New York, it is estimated gave more than 1,000,000 plurality and many other States gave pluralities equally as surprising.

Following is the vote by pluralities, of all the States, as best obtainable, excepting therefrom Kentucky, which is carried by Cox and will make his electoral vote 127 to 494 for Harding.

TOWN "PLUGS" DOWN HIGH SCHOOL GOAL TOSSEES

The High School Basketball Five succumbed to the Hartford "Plug" Team Tuesday night in a hard-fought and well played game to the close score of 13 to 16. The game was the first to be played by the School team this season. While the High School Boys are not so bulky in size, yet they put up a good battle and with a bit of practice and a game or two, ought to make the teams of this season.

tion hustle in order to win. The H. S. Team, composed of Blanton Ellis, G.; Douglass Williams, G.; Raymond Robertson, C.; Virgil Crowe F.; Herbert Pate F.; and Myrtle Rhoads, Sub., will journey to Fordsville today where they clash with the High School Team of that place. Prof. Roy F. Foreman will accompany the team.

OUR NEXT PRESIDENT

WARREN G. HARDING

DAVID L. SMITH.

Mr. David L. Smith died at his home in Owensboro, last Friday morning at 2:30 o'clock, as the result of a severe paralytic stroke suffered Tuesday previous to that date. Funeral services were conducted at the Trinity M. E. Church, Owensboro, of which he was a devoted member. His remains were interred in Rose Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Smith was widely known by the older citizens of Ohio County, he having been born and reared near Hartford, where he spent the greater portion of his life. For some time he was prominent in Ohio County politics having enjoyed the distinction of being one of the first, if not the first Republicans to be elected to the position of Sheriff in this county. Deceased was a Civil War Veteran, having served throughout that unpleasant episode in the 12th Ky. Cavalry, Company "E". For more than 20 years Mr. Smith had been in the Internal Revenue service and had resided in Owensboro during that period.

Besides his widow Mr. Smith is survived by two sons and five daughters, one of the latter being Mrs. J. R. Pirtle, of Hartford.

OHIO COUNTY ROLLS UP GOOD MAJORITY

More Than 4,000 Women Assume Privilege Of The Ballot

In the high vote for Presidential Electors, Ohio County cast a total of 5,307, which does not include the scattering votes for the Prohibition and Socialist tickets, which will likely run the total well beyond the 10,000 mark. Compared with the vote of last fall's election, taking the vote for Black and Morrow as a basis, the Tuesday's vote would indicate that approximately 4,075 women voted for the Harding and Cox tickets, as that many more votes were cast than were polled for Black and Morrow.

The Democrats increased their vote in the County by 1,862 over the Black vote, while the Republican candidate for President received 2,213 more votes than Governor Morrow polled.

Assuming that it is fair to double the 1919 vote of each party in order to determine the total county vote, if closely polled, that is, should the Black-Morrow vote be a fair party vote, which it was not, in our judgment, the Republicans should have polled 6,310 and the Democrats 4,244 votes last Tuesday. So if the Morrow-Black vote could be considered a strict party register the Democrats lost approximately 300 women while the Republicans lost approximately 900, or in other words three Republican women remained at home while one Democrat did likewise. By the comparison it may be seen that the Republicans have around 900 votes in reserve while the Democrats have 300, most all of whom will likely take part in the next general election.

The Republican majority in the county in 1916 was 559, when the Democrats polled a total vote of 2,711. Thus it will be seen that on a general comparison, it was a great day for Republicans in Ohio county.

Republicans were almost unanimously agreed, that the stay-at-home women in Tuesday's election would be very largely Republican. One feature operating to the advantage of the Democrats was that nearly all of the towns in the County contain considerably more Democrats than Republicans, therefore it was much easier for a large number of the women Democrats to reach polling places.

than it was for Republicans.

Organization Deserves Credit
Campaign Chairman, W. C. Blankenship, Mrs. A. D. Kirk, Chairman of the Womens' Organization, and Mrs. Gilmore Keown, Secretary, and a number of men and women here and elsewhere in the County, deserve much credit and the thanks of all of us for their untiring labor in organization work, which, owing to circumstances absolutely unavoidable was begun too late. But few women desired to vote, this was especially true with the women out in the County, it required a lot of effort in many places to induce them to vote at all, simply because they did not care to assume the responsibilities and desired that matters relating to government be controlled and worked out by their husbands, fathers and sons.

COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION ELECTED

Tuesday marked the election of the first County Board of Education, under the law enacted by the recent session of the Legislature. The ballot included the names of ten splendid citizens, placed there by petitions filed with the County Clerk. All were in one column, without device or party emblem of any sort, position having been determined by drawing held in the office of the County Clerk.

The ballot contained the names of the following citizens: Mrs. W. O. Read, Horse Branch; Nat Lindley, Pleasant; Claude Renfrow, Dundee; W. S. Hill, Ceralvo; L. J. Owen, Hartford, Route 5; W. P. Carson, Hartford, Route 3; Dr. Oscar Allen, Cromwell; Henry Carter, Narrows; O. T. Kittinger, Equality and O. T. Burdette, Herbert.

The first five named above proved the winners, Mrs. Read having led the entire ticket with approximately 950 votes. Mr. Owen received the smallest vote of any of the five who were elected, it being 794. Votes for the other five ranged from that down to 336.

ALTON PACKARD.

You thought he was dead when you read that headline. No he is not near ready for burial. He's the liveliest wire in the whole coil. Says a New York Editor: "Mr. Packard talks and sketches pictures of people and of everyday life, sings his original songs about them, makes fun of them and exalts them. He ranges from humorous conceits which cause roars of laughter, to philosophy. He is a concert company, cartoonist and humorist all in one."

WILLIAM F. ACTON

Mr. William F. Acton died at his home here yesterday morning at 4:30 o'clock, after an illness of several months. Except present plans are changed, for the purpose of enabling a daughter who resides in Iowa, to be present at the burial, funeral services and interment will take place at noon today, at the Midkiff Cemetery, near Mt. Vernon.

Deceased was born and reared in this County, was 67 years old, a devoted member of the M. E. Church and a good citizen. Besides his widow he is survived by three sons and three daughters, Mrs. R. A. Karraker, of Ottumwa, Iowa; Mrs. M. T. Likens and Mrs. Jesse Hoover. Mr. A. C. and L. C., and a small son, Orin Acton, by his second marriage, all of whom reside in Hartford.

HARTFORD PEOPLE TO GO SOUTH AND WEST

Mr. Henry Nall, his mother and sister, Mrs. Annie T. and Miss Zella Mae Nall, will leave Tuesday for Salinas, California, where they are to spend the winter with a daughter of Mrs. Nall's, Mrs. John V. Briton, and Mr. Britton.

Miss Mary Rowe will accompany the Nalls as far as New Orleans, La., and will spend the winter in that state with her nephews, Messrs. Ernest, Clarence and Joshua Fields.

SPEAKING OF CONVERSATION

The regular patron, a little pale and wan, dropped wearily into a chair and took out his newspaper.

"Steak, as per usual, sir?" said the waiter.

"No; I am tired tonight," the patron said. "Bring me a plate of hash."

HARDING MINDFUL OF GRAVE DUTIES

Prays God For Guidance In Discharge Of His Obligations.

Marion O. Nov. 2.—Convinced by early returns of his election to the presidency, Warren G. Harding issued a statement tonight saying that instead of being exultant over the result he was "more given to prayer to God to make me capable of playing my part."

Receiving the election returns at his home here, Mr. Harding declined during the early evening to make any comment, and issued his statement only after the figures had piled up majorities for him which his advisers declared made his election certain.

The senator's statement follows: "Assuming that the early returns are wholly dependable, I do not hesitate to say that I am pleased, of course, I am happy to utter my gratitude. But I am not exultant. It is not a personal victory. It is a renewed expression of confident Americanism and a national call to the Republican party.

"It is all so serious, the obligations are so solemn that instead of exulting I am more given to prayer to God to make me capable of playing my part, and that all these calls to responsibility may meet the aspirations and expectations of America and the world.

"I am sure the people who have voted the Republican ticket will understand my feeling that I should make no unstudied statement of policies at this time, beyond the expression made thruout the campaign."

Daughterly Speaks.
Coincidentally with the senator's statement, Harry M. Daugherty, a member of the Republican campaign committee, made this statement here:

"It is the greatest victory in American politics, clearly foreshadowed and predicted. It is more than a partisan victory, as the result was contributed to by millions of Democrats. The women of the nation have quickly vindicated the conferring of the suffrage privilege, as they sensed correctly the issues and rallied to the cause of America and American institutions. The Republican party is fully conscious of the great responsibilities implied in this popular verdict and will faithfully keep its obligations."

The senator's trip to Texas will begin Friday night or Saturday morning and Mr. Harding will arrive at Point Isabel, Texas, near Brownsville, next Monday. He plans to spend about twelve days there, and then leave for Panama by way of New Orleans.

His stay in the Canal Zone will last about a week, during which he will make a first-hand study of local conditions and particularly of the tolls system for American ships. He has advocated thruout the campaign a repeal of these tolls, and it is expected he will collect information on that policy.

To return In December

Leaving Colon about December 1, he will land at New Orleans and will travel by train to Bedford, Va., where he speaks December 5 at an Elk's celebration. Afterward he is to return to Marion to remain under present plans, most of the time until March 4. He may take a trip, during this interim, however, to some Southern resort.

As President-elect Mr. Harding still would be a United States senator, but his friends say he probably would remain away from Washington and devote his attention to the choice of a cabinet and formulation of his administration policies. Election of a Republican governor in Ohio would enable him to resign from the Senate on January 1, when the term of Governor Cox expires and when the new governor would appoint a Republican senator to the vacancy.

OWL CAUSED AUTO ACCIDENT

When an owl flew into an auto carrying a party of Michigan tourists the driver lost control of the machine and it "turned turtle," figuratively speaking. The machine was badly damaged but the occupants fortunately escaped with only minor injuries, although all of them were dumped out.

INDIANA FIXES PRICES FOR COAL

Tells Operators Where And How Much Fuel State Must Get!

Indianapolis, Oct. 30.—Indiana and the nation stand agape today while the state administration, elected from the most conservative group in the Republican party, is taking away from the coal operators and dealers the right to control "their own" property.

Coal operators admit privately they have been making excessive profits, but claim the prices fixed by the state coal commission are too low and that they can only operate at a loss under them.

With the fixing of prices Indiana operators immediately began sending coal out of the state in larger quantities until the pinch was felt throughout the state.

Prices To Be Fixed.

Then the commission startled the state, the operators and the nation. It ordered the operators to produce enough coal for Indiana's domestic consumption, 1,500,000 tons a month, at a price fixed by the commission.

The order requires a report each week on the number of tons mined, the amount offered for sale and the buyers. Violations of the order are punishable by a maximum fine of $5,000, to which may be added a sentence of one year on the Indiana state farm.

This revolutionary order is the first of its kind, attorneys state. Monopolistic public utilities have been ordered to serve people, but never before has a business in which competition is supposed to exist been ordered to serve the people with its property.

James P. Goodrich Indiana's conservative governor, who fostered the law establishing the commission, has warned the coal operators not to fight regulation.

Chairman Eschbach of the commission, recently announced that if Indiana retail coal dealers refused to observe the commission's ruling on the 25 margin granted them on the same price of coal, he would establish municipal coal yards throughout the state.

Goodrich, tactful in selecting the commission, evaded the old cry of "just another useless commission," by constituting the state board of accounts as the coal commission, the members performing their new duties without additional pay. Governor Goodrich, Jesse Eschbach, chief of the board of accounts, and Otto Klaus, auditor of the state, make up the commission.

AUTO PLUNGED OFF 200-FOOT CLIFF

One man was killed, another was mortally injured and three other persons were badly hurt when the auto in which they were riding dropped over a 200-foot precipice in Bear Creek canyon, near Denver, Colo. It is said that the wife of the driver, sitting beside him, became excited, seized the steering wheel and turned the car off the narrow road to the edge of the cliff.

GETTING READY FOR THE INTERNATIONAL

Preparations for the World's Greatest Live Stock Exposition at Chicago during the first week of December, are now well under way. Each season this spectacle of animal life is given a new stage setting, involving the labor of hundreds of men for several weeks and an expenditure of many thousand dollars. Part of this is necessitated by essential convenience for man and beast; part goes to furnish the coloring that has given the Exposition atmospheric brilliancy, intensified as each season rolls around. An enormous sum is required for light effects, a feature of the "International" that has always been abreast and much of the time in advance of such improvement as electrical ingenuity develops. This year a number of scenic novelties have been introduced, arrangement of exhibits has been perfected and a more elaborate setting has been given the latest addition to this aggregation of spectacles—the Grain and Hay Show, under the auspices of the Chicago Board of Trade.

When the gates are thrown open to the public, November 27th a month hence, all this elaborate and expensive getting-ready programme will insure the most successful International Live Stock Exposition since the inauguration of that enterprise, which has been effective in promoting the welfare and progress of the live stock industry of all sections of North America.

CAMOUFLAGED PARIS

Plans Completed To Foal German Gothas When War Closed

Paris, Oct. 30.—A sensation has been caused by the revelation of the secret plans of a "fake Paris" built about fifteen miles outside the city limits to attract German Gothas during their night raids, thus preserving the real Paris from their bombs.

By means of thousands of wooden huts, miles of canvas and a series of remarkable light effects, fictitious railroad stations, trains and factory sites were created which imitated to perfection the real ones.

The Eastern Railway station, for instance, was constructed at about ten miles north of the city, with its buildings, moving trains, signals, and a factory near by apparently going at full blast.

To stimulate a station, wooden framework was covered by transparent canvas. Lit from below the effect was that of huge vaulted domes like the real railroad stations. When the Gothas were signalled the lights were lowered sufficiently to make it seem that an attempt was made to hide the station in darkness.

For more than two miles beyond the fictitious station were fictitious trains composed of a series of wooden panels, the side of the usual railroad car, placed flatly on the ground. To both sides of the panels ran a border of light which from above, seemed like the reflection from lighted windows. A special electrical arrangement made it appear, at times, as if the trains were moving.

Minute plans had been made to transport a false "heart of Paris" into the Saint Germain forest, some fifteen miles away; while about twelve miles to the West, a huge factory town was to have been simulated. The carrying out of these plans, and Mr. Jacopzzi, the inventor of the ingenious "town camouflaging system" is now looking for another war with other air raids to be able to perfect his ideas.

Irregular bowel movements lead to chronic constipation and a constipated habit fills the system with impurities. HERBINE is a great bowel regulator. It purifies the system, vitalizes the blood and puts the digestive organs in fine, vigorous condition. Price 60c. Sold by Ohio County Drug Co.

BOXING GLOVES FOR CHICAGO SCHOOLS

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Plans to put a set of boxing gloves in every Chicago school for the use of pupils in settling their disputes are being made by Geo. B. Arnold, chairman of the finance committee of the Board of Education.

Mr. Arnold announced his plan today in answer to critics of Miss Alice M. Hogge, principal of the Webster School, who referred a bout between two of her pupils. He said that as far as he was concerned, the efforts of attorneys for Mrs. Rose Selon to have Miss Hogge discharged because she permitted the battle would prove of no avail. Mrs. Selon's son, Abe, was defeated in the scrap by Salvatore Sorino.

"Boxing in the schools ought to be encouraged," said Mr. Arnold. "If any principal sends in a requisition for boxing gloves I will see that it is honored at once. If necessary, I will seek an appropriation for money to buy boxing gloves at the next meeting of the board."

GOES 70 MILES FOR MORE TANLAC

Gained 17 Pounds And Her Wonderful Improvement Is Talk Of Neighbor- hood.

"It's no wonder that everybody sees a change in mother since she began taking Tanlac, for she has gained seventeen pounds and can get about better than for the last twenty-five years," recently declared T. E. Ellis, well-known live-stock dealer, living at Rumsey, Ky.

"My mother is now sixty-eight years old and for eight years had suffered from loss of appetite, nervousness, constant headaches, severe pains in the chest and back and frequent spells of dizziness. She became so bad off about five years ago that she had to give up all housework, and spent most of her time in bed. During all that time she neither knew what it was to have a well day or a night's rest, and her condition became so alarming that we never expected to see her up and about again.

"One day she read in the papers about someone who had been greatly helped by Tanlac, and nothing would satisfy her until she had tried it herself. So I drove 35 miles to Evansville and got her a bottle. She had four more bottles since then and she has actually gained seventeen pounds in weight, and its years since I saw her looking so well. She praises Tanlac all day long, and her remarkable recovery has made such a stir around Rumsey that scores of other sick people have been taking Tanlac with splendid results. I make a trip to Evansville every week and always carry back a load of Tanlac for the neighbors. We all think there is no medicine like it, and I'm glad of this chance of telling everybody about what it did for my mother."

Tanlac is sold in Hartford by Dr. L. B. Bean; in Beaver Dam by R. T. Taylor, Jr.; and in McHenry by S. J. Tichenor.—Advertisement.

COURT TO DECIDE ON COMMON LAW MARRIAGE

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 30.—Alma Rosebrooke Teike, whose common-law husband, Carl Fred Teike, was killed in action October 15, 1918, has asked Federal Judge A. B. Anderson, to recognize her as Teike's widow and grant her the widow's share of his life insurance. It amounts to $7,500. "Carl was called away to camp," she said, "and he asked for a furlough to come home and marry. Finally he got a one-day leave—Sunday, May 9, 1918. There were no marriage licenses to be had on Sunday so we pledged ourselves before God to be true to each other as man and wife. Then we sealed it with a kiss and Carl went to war. In the eyes of God we are married and I am his widow." Mrs. Teike says she feels sure Judge Anderson will decide the case in her favor and recognize a new form of marriage.

NEW YORK MURDERER SENTENCED IN ITALY

Milan, Italy, Nov. 1.—Alfred Cocchi, charged with the murder of Ruth Cruger, whose body was found buried in the cellar under his New York shop several months after he fled to Italy, was Friday convicted of murder. He was sentenced to twenty-seven years, four months and three days, by the court in Bologna this afternoon.

Cocchi was arrested in Italy after the body of Ruth Cruger had been found buried in the cellar of his bicycle shop in Harlem. She carried a pair of skates to Cocchi's shop to have them sharpened and was never seen alive afterward.

The body was discovered after a search of six months. During the long search, and after strongly disclaiming any knowledge regarding the missing girl, Cocchi went to Italy where the government upheld his claim that he could not be extradited.

All the evidence gathered in this country before and after finding the body was sent to the authorities in Italy and the Italian government announced that he would be tried there.

Besides his conviction on the murder charge, cable dispatches said today that Cocchi was also found guilty of attempted criminal assault, falsifying passports and false enrollment for military service.

Stop coughing! You rack your lungs and worry the body. Ballard's Horehound Syrup checks irritation, heals the lungs and restores comfortable breathing. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Ohio County Drug Company.

This Xmas let it be a Furniture Aristocrat

Get this Xmas guide- book to Period Furniture

Come in and let us give you a copy of "Edison and Music". Tells about the chief period designs—what they look like, what they stand for. Pithy descriptions. Beautiful illustrations. Just the information you want.

Let us show you what an exquisite thing a phonograph cabinet can be.

Every New Edison on our floor—no matter what its price—is encased in a genuine period cabinet.

Period Furniture is the world's most exquisite development of furniture. It originated in the 16th, 17th, and 18th Centuries. Europe was ruled by a Gorgeous Aristocracy. Fine living was the ideal of the day. An unparalleled race of artists, architects, and designers built palatial living-places for kings and nobles, and furnished them. The palaces of the nobility became treasure-houses of fine furniture. It was called the "Golden Age of Furniture."

So Mr. Edison had his designers go back into the manor houses of England, the chateaux of France and the castles of Italy. They adapted 17 designs from historic masterpieces. They preserved entire "the character and feeling of the best periods" in these superb phonograph cases for the modern American home.

No matter which Edison cabinet you choose, you get both the arts that make your house a cultured home—music perfectly RE-CREATED and furniture of purest period source. What finer gift for all the family?

FRIDAY.....NOVEMBER 5

Senator Harding carried Governor
Cox's home precinct by a substantial majority and the Senator's own precinct gave him the handsome vote of 373 to 76 for Governor Cox.

It must indeed be humiliating to one who imagines that through his veins only flows the bluest of the blue blood, to have as he honestly (?) thinks, the descendant of a son of "Ham" overwhelmingly carry off all laurels in a popularity contest when and where his own azure blooded Idol could not even be classed with the "Also Rans."

The Campaign just brought to a close, with such an emphatic verdict rendered ought to mark the last of such, in the United States for at least a half century or more. No man who has been a witness to Presidential Election Campaigns has known one where such bitterness and vile slander has been indulged in. The remarkable vote given one of the Candidates in his own home section and the fact that the other lost his home precinct is proof-positive that the Country will not stand for such tactics as were resorted to in the closing days. No party has ever won a victory by that method, none ever should win, and in all probability we who participated in the election of Tuesday will not live to see another campaign waged so largely upon unsupportable charges, abuse and utter intolerance of the will and feelings of the opposition.

We may miss the mark so far as to shoot in the opposite direction, but we predict that before another year will have passed, the United States of America will become a party to an agreement with the Powers now signatory to the Covenant of the League of Nations so much discussed during the past several months. But the League or agreement we become a party to will leave the sovereignty of America in Washington and our freedom in our own hands beyond the shadow of a doubt. We have always been for something of the sort, and we believe that the Country is also inclined that way, yet to go too far, to surrender too much, amounted to suicide, so it was viewed and the Nation's voice as expressed Tuesday we believe was in direct approval of what the so-called Senate Oligarchy did in Americanizing the document. Mr.
Wilson chose to force the Democrats into the campaign upon the issue of whether or not the Country should accept the pact just as he delivered it to the Senate, or with some minor changes or reservations which meant nothing at all, or with the reservations as adopted or no League. If that question was what the people voted upon Tuesday, we ought never to hear any thing more about the "Senate Oligarchy." If it was the Wilson Administration in general that caused the immense vote to be polled for Harding then he, is the most thoroughly discredited, or rather his administration is, of any or all who have gone before. If it was the character of campaign indulged in that caused the landslide, then Mr.
Cox's repudiation stands out as being the most complete on record. To sum up just what would be the main cause of the overwhelming avalanche is something no one could do, perhaps to the satisfaction of any very large group of individuals as one would meet them.

WHOLESALE PRICES OF MEAT DECLINE

Washington, Oct. 31.—Wholesale prices of beef and pork declined substantially during October, said a statement issued tonight by the Institute of American Packers.

"Selling prices of carcass beef thruout the country showed a decline of approximately 13 per cent at the end of October as compared with the first weeks in September," said the statement. "Fresh pork declined heavily.
In the domestic trade from October 2 to October 26, the wholesale prices of light pork loins whence come pork chops, declined about 21 per cent."
"Between October 2 and October 26 pork shoulders declined about 10 per cent and spoked hams and standard bacon fell slightly less than 10 per cent."

IN THE VIRGIN ISLANDS

One of the tasks for Congress at the next session will be the framing of a government for the Virgin Islands, the report of the Congressional Investigation Commission, which visited the islands last spring, reaching Congress too late for consideration at the last session. In the meantime, American ideals and institutions are being brought home to the citizens of these newest insular possessions of the United States, thru the agency of the American Red Cross.

Thru the Junior Red Cross, the youth of these islands, whose connections in the past were almost altogether European, are becoming acquainted with the customs of their new parent. Danish laws and customs, however, still predominate.
With the assistance of the American Library Association, the Junior Red Cross is establishing a chain of libraries in St. Thomas and St. Croix, the principal cities on the islands.

SCHOOL FAIR HERE

LARGELY ATTENDED

First Project Draws More Than 15 Schools In Competition.

The School Fair held here Oct. 22, under auspices of the Hartford High School, by far surpassed the fondest expectations of those having it in charge. More than 15 schools participated in some of the various contests. The parade from the College to the Fair Grounds was well arranged and more than could have been asked or expected. Nocreek School, with Capt. C. B. Shown teacher, enjoyed the honor of first place for best display in the parade. Various stages or periods of progress made by the United States was depicted in splendid form. In fact all of the schools did splendidly and both teacher and pupil deserve much credit.

The display of rivalry in many contests was keen, yet the spirit of good feeling and fellowship was at all times and everywhere prevalent and strongly in evidence, and the unanimous opinion was to the effect that it was a great day socially and for the Schools in this section.

Due to lack of space and opportunity to properly shape the program for publication, we have been unable to publish the results at an earlier date. Following is the list of awards

S. S. CONVENTION OF MUCH INTEREST HELD

The Ohio County Baptist Sunday School Convention held at Green River, near Cromwell, Oct. 30-31, was well attended and of unusual interest. Rendering of the program devolved largely on local talent, owing to the fact that the presence of Ministers was smaller than usual or expected, yet it was well done and a credit to the community.

INVENTIVENESS OF INSECTS

One can not read the delightful works of M. Fabre without being struck by the fact that man in many of his inventions and mechanical accomplishments, has, after all, been preceded in these accomplishments by insects.

The bee and the wasp used hypodermic needles long before we thought of them, and the bee uses formic acid as an antiseptic to preserve its honey from fermentation.

The spider made the first suspension bridge, and certain kinds of these insect have been able to construct their own airships and a workable sort of diving bell. The bee manufactures a wax that we can not even today imitate, and a worm is still unrivaled in the manufacture of silk thread.

To these skilled artisans might be added the ant, which makes tunnels and subways; the mason bee, with its cement work, and the great peacock moth, which was able to call its kind from a long distance by means of some invisible agency, long before man had dreamed of the possibility of wireless telegraphy.—Louisville Herald.

TOOTH IN LUNG PRODUCED DEATH

A New York man filed suit for damages against a dentist, charging that in pulling teeth for the plaintiff's wife he had negligently allowed one of the grinders to drop into her windpipe and then into her lung without telling her anything about it. As a result she contracted pneumonia, a month later and died, according to the plaintiff.

BEADS ODDLY STRUNG

I want to apologize for the things political appearing on this bead string last week. I try to be agreeable at any sacrifice, but I did not know it was going to be as bad as it was. It is worse than talking of the gallows to a family, a member of which had been hung, this talking politics to our Democratic friends just now.

It is always a bit interesting for one to run across tracks he made long ago. Just now, in cleaning a drawer in my office, I found a copy of the Courier Journal of March 2, 1919, the Marse Henry edition. It was issued as a sort of celebration of Mr. Watterson's birthday. Each of the Kentucky newspapers had been asked to publish a brief mention of the great editor, for reproduction in the special issue. At the time I was on the Republican, and wrote my write. And in this issue, another editor had taken pains to preserve, I found my own little notice. One among many, the only pride I found in observing it after this lapse of time, was its brevity. I have written volumes for publication, but have not preserved a line of all I have written. But in ineffable memory I have preserved some choice strokes from other pens.

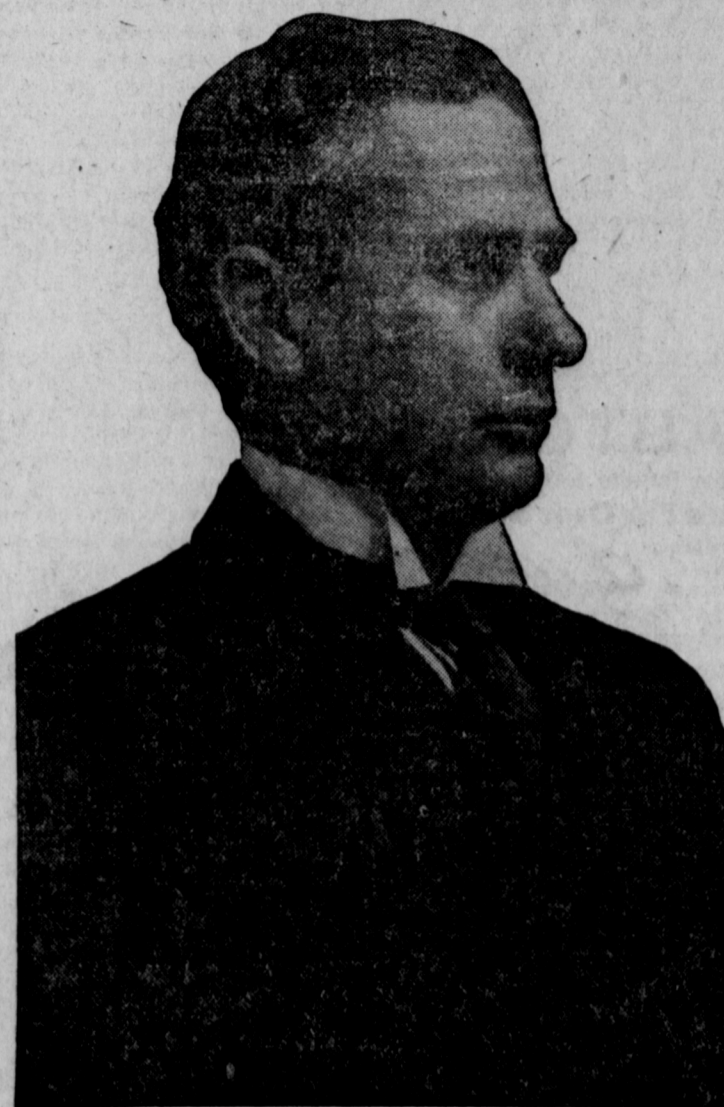

"He's a changed man" remarked one man of another who had been some years away, to me today. But why should he not be changed after a lapse of a dozen years? The man who after so long a time has not markedly changed, changed to living a new life and in a new world, ought to claim kinship with the mollusk on the ocean's bed. Change is the indelible mark of progress. If the boy when grown to manhood notes no greater change in his life than a want of taste for rolling a hoop or tossing a ball, then indeed is he doomed to perpetual childhood. I meet a man who as a boy of ten was my friend and confident, and find him now indifferent and neglectful, or maybe patronizing. I fault him with ingratitude and a sour nature, when he has only grown from me while I stood still. He has changed, indeed, and the boyhood congeniality is wanting because I have not changed with him. Unhappy the lot of the man whom time does not change.

At Mrs. Kates' table—that's where a score of us take our meals—there is much discussion of sundry subjects, and the usual variety of opinion crops out. Tonight we were discussing the carnival that played here last week. An old gentleman, earnest, sincere and austere, said carnivals ought to be tabooed; that they imposed on the people with various games of chance where the chance was all in the carnival fakir's favor, and got the peoples money for nothing. One of our old maids—we have several in the company—defended the carnival as a convenient provider of entertainment for the gullible, insisted this suffragette philosopher, like to be gulled, and only the trained carnival bands could put it over in that clever way that made it worth more than the money. Darned if she didn't almost convince me that in the fool and his money being soon parted the fool got more in parting with his money than the miser gets in misering his. I am not strong on woman suffrage, but that old maid ought to have been granted the privilege of suffrage forty years ago.

A good friend of mine, a frank fellow, and that is the sort of friends I like, good naturedly chided me recently for being a self-advertiser in my bead stringing. It was like a novice advising a nold fisherman what sort of bait to use. If the stuff has any interest at all it is the personal feature that gives it interest. All history is a personal record of individuals. The public likes to have a writer turn himself inside out so it can discover his faults and weakness and cuss and criticize him. Why, that same fellow will read every line I write just for the pleasure of criticising my egotism. Won't you, Me?

NEW RECORDS SET FOR IMMIGRATION

Newcomers Give Many Reasons For Coming To America

New York, Oct. 30.—The tide of immigrants continues to swamp all post-war records. Five thousand landed a day at Ellis Island is a common occurrence.

Lack of shipping prevents a pre-war record from being smashed, officials say, for each new week sees a new high mark for the period since 1914.

What kind of immigrants are coming? Why are they coming? From what countries are they coming?

Returning travelers say that the entire population of Poland is ready to emigrate to America, that Italians and Greeks and Spaniards and Jugoslavs, Czechs and Ruthenians and Slovaks are all looking once more to this country as a Promised Land, where wages are high and where work is plentiful, where taxes are low and food abundant, where there is neither oppression, nor war nor revolution.

If you want to find out what kind of people live in Cincinnati or Memphis or El Paso a pretty good way to find out would be just to talk to the people in those cities; go into a barber shop and a grocery store and a wholesale establishment and a boot-black parlor and see what the people there are like and what they are thinking about.

Sixty-Two Cases Studied.

The writer adopted a method of that sort in attempting to learn a little about the immigrants who are coming to this country. Through interpreters he approached them in various places—away from official influences of all kinds—and asked them a few simple questions. He found them at South Ferry, where they are landed from Ellis Island, in the Pennsylvania and other depots on the Jersey side, where they take trains to the west; he found them in immigrant homes and at the headquarters of charitable organizations, where they are sheltered until relatives call for them. In all sixty-two cases were studied, and the information obtained has been prepared in tabular form on the accompanying chart.

And what stories the table contains! Each line holds a tragedy or comedy of its own, from Elias Atlas, who came here from Galicia to escape "war, starvation and pogroms" at home, to G. Cerniglio, of Palermo, Italy, who comes here at the age of 62, ill and with a trade, "to make a living."

Gedalia Goldberg, 19, arrives from Odessa because her father is "opposed to the Bolsheviks," who control that city. C. Miniconi, a laborer, is on his way to Butler, Pa., on a "pleasure trip." G. Marozzo thinks, as well as he may, that he will have a "better chance" here. The wants of J. Regia, 43, from Vicenza, are simple he desires "to make a living."

"Tired of War At Home." Eugene Shitez, here from Russia, gives the conventional excuse of the married man for going to the club—he is "tired of war at home."

The majority of the men and women questioned were Italians, as are the majority of the immigrants who are arriving here today. Most of them are laborers, and they are impelled to come here for economic reasons; they hear that conditions in the United States are better and wages higher. Political reasons, pogroms, persecution, play a part in sending to this country many immigrants from Central and Eastern Europe.

ROLL CALL NOV. 11-25

Ohio county Chapter will seek a membership of 900 in the Fourth Red Cross Roll Call, November 11 to 25. This quota has been fixed by H. B. Dickson, Roll Call manager for Lake Division.

Chapter quotas have been set with the view of enrolling 1,500,000 members in Lake Division—Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky.

Plans for achieving this goal were completed at conferences of chapter Roll Call directors of the three states at Indianapolis, Louisville and Columbus.

"Let every good American citizen become a member of the Red Cross" is the message of Herbert Hoover, whose relief work abroad during the war brought him into close association with the American Red Cross.

The stupendous foreign and domestic task before the Red Cross in its peace program is one that deserves the support of the American people, he points out in urging a large enrollment.

Churches throughout Lake Division have begun plans for the observance of Red Cross Sunday, November 14. From the pulpits of the three states the cause of the Red Cross will be impressed upon many audiences and its vast peace program explained.

"The Red Cross of Peace," the pageant written especially for Lake Division, also will be presented at Churches on Red Cross Sunday.

TOLEDO AUTO KILLS CUSTER'S LAST MAN

Toledo, O., Oct. 29.—Frank Fleck, 70 years old, believed to have been America's last survivor of Custer's band of Indian fighters, was killed by an automobile on a suburban road near here early today.

Fleck, a ship carpenter by trade, had made his residence in Toledo many years.

When Custer's troops were mustered to pursue Indian renegades Fleck was attached to Reno's Division. He suffered four bullet wounds in the battle of the Little Big Horn and escaped with Reno's troops who had become separated from Custer.

Fleck was one of seventeen who enlisted from Toledo in the regular army in 1867. He was assigned to the Seventh Cavalry, which was sent against the Sioux Indians under Sitting Bull.

DIVERS ARE SALVAGING DAMAGED SUBMARINE

States navy divers are risking their lives working 150 feet under the sea to prepare the U. S. submarine S-5 for salvage, it was stated at the Navy Department today. The S-5 sank 100 miles off the Delaware capes on September 1. Her crew was rescued after forty-eight hours.

The divers are boring holes thru the bottom of the submarine to make air connections and making the hatchways and other openings tight against internal pressure.

The actual salvaging will be done by the mine sweeper Mallard, which has been specially fitted with air compressors, air tanks and a decompressing chamber. The work will be completed by November 20.

HERE'S MOST POPULAR LEOPARD IN THE WORLD

London, Oct. 30.—"Raffles" is the most popular leopard in the world, and she's holding "open house" at the zoo here. All her old friends the officers and men of H. M. S. Hyacinth are dropping into "shake a paw" and say howdy-do.

"Raffles" only recently came to live at the zoo and before that time was star boarder and official mascot of the Hyacinth.

Her favorite pastime was stalking sailors on the deck and jumping on their bare feet. Once the trick almost cost her life and she never played the game again. The sailor she jumped for dodged and "Raffles" dived into the sea!

"Leopard overboard!" sailed her playmate. Engines stopped. Ship put about and there was "Raffles" paddling her own canoe on the bosom of the broad Atlantic. A boat was over the side in a moment and "Raffles" was ignominiously hoisted aboard.

11 ALABAMA COAL MEN INDICTED BY U. S. JURY

THUGS TRY TO BURN IOWA MINISTER ALIVE

Council Bluffs, Iowa, Oct. 30.—Lured to a lonely part of the city by a fake telephone call, the Rev. Dr. E. D. Cleveland, pastor of the Dodge Memorial Church and prominent in civic affairs, late last night was slugged, bound and gagged by four thugs, who threw him into an automobile truck, soaked his clothes in oil and then set fire to the car.

He saved himself from being burned to death by rolling out of the truck.

Two boys who were attracted by the blazing car found Dr. Cleveland. He was taken to a hospital, where it was reported today his condition is critical.

Dr. Cleveland said he was certain the motive for the attack on him was revenge for steps taken by him to suppress a wave of crime in the section of the city in which his church is located.

JAPANESE CROWDING WHITES FROM SCHOOLS

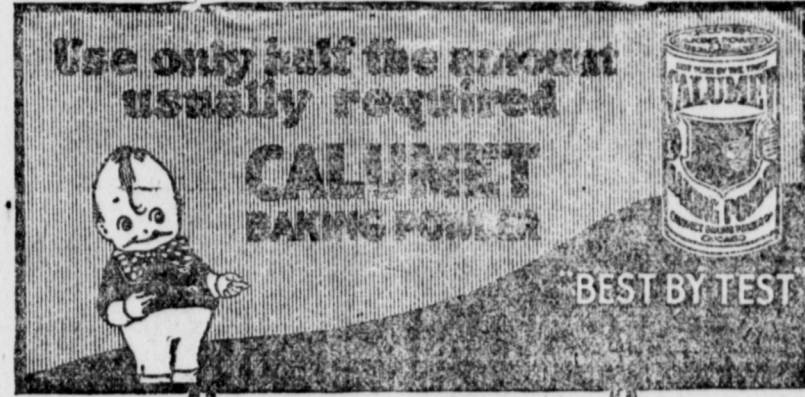

Seattle, Oct. 30.—Residents of Mercer Island engaged an attorney to find why their children should be barred from overcrowded Seattle schools while Japanese students were admitted. The school board's attorney ruled that the Japanese living in the school district, have precedence over white children living outside. The school board reports that attendance of Japanese is increasing rapidly and at the same time that Japanese schools, teaching Japanese language, religion and ideals, are flourishing.

FARM DEPARTMENT.

Dig Potatoes After Frost to Kill Blight and Rot.

In States where the Irish potato foliage has been badly attacked by the late blight disease and rot is threatened, it is best to delay digging until 10 days or longer after the tops are fully dead, preferably until after a frost has killed the vines, say specialists of the Bureau of Plant Industry, United States Department of Agriculture. Earlier digging will result in more field tuber infection and subsequent development of rot in the cellar. Experiments have shown that the smallest percentage of tuber rot in storage follows the practice of delayed digging.

Severe This Season.

Late blight has been more or less general and severe this season in the New England States, on account of the cool, rainy weather which prevailed in these States through the latter part of July and most of August. In some instances the onset of dry weather which frequently comes about the last of August has checked the disease.

Tuber infection takes place chiefly in the field when the potatoes are dug too soon after the tops die down with the disease and while the fungus is yet alive. By delaying the digging until the tops have been dead some time or until a freeze kills the stems the fungus also is killed to a large extent and hence little or no new tuber infection takes place.

The large commercial grower must consider his labor supply in relation to the time available for digging before the potatoes will be frozen in the ground and delay his digging as much as consistent with getting the crop out before frost injury. In the most northern sections not as much delay can be practiced as in States farther south. It is the farmhome supply which can be dug in a few days where the greatest advantage can be taken of this means of reducing field tuber infection and subsequent storage rot.

Agriculture A Basis For Business Of The Country.

"Too many business men, I am afraid, have failed to appreciate fully the importance of agriculture or their dependence on it. This has resulted, in many instances, in lack of sympathetic understanding of the farmer's problems and of the difficulties confronting him not only in producing his crops or live stock but also in the marketing of his products. Agriculture furnishes the basis of much of the business of the country. There are many industries which are entirely dependent on it, such as the machinery, the packing houses, the manufacturer of farm implements and grain merchants, and many others; and farm products, of course, play a large part in transportation. Neither the business man nor the farmer, therefore, can be genuinely and permanently prosperous without the good will and the material aid of the other. Whenever a business man does anything toward making the agriculture of his section more profitable to the farmers, he does something which will help his own business, because there is not in the United States any business center that could continue to prosper independently of the farming communities surrounding it."—Edwin T. Meredith, Secretary of Agriculture.

A list of growers of pure sorghum seed has been issued this year by the Kansas State Agricultural Experiment Station at Manhattan, supplementing similar lists which have been published in the past on wheat, corn, and other principal cereal crops. The list is made from field inspection and enables farmers to tell the exact grade of sorghum or percentage of mixture with other varieties which is to be obtained from any grower. This service has been of great advantage to the farmers of the State.

Falling Crop Production Per Capita, Reports Show.

Crop production in this country in 1911, as estimated by the Bureau of Crop Estimates of the United States Department of Agriculture, was 11 per cent above the average of the prewar years 1910-14, and this was 1915, when the production was 16 not previously equaled except in per cent above the average. Late in the growing season of 1920, the production of crops was apparently 13 per cent above the average.

A tale of another sort is told when crop production is compared with population. During the last 30 years the largest per capita production was in 1898, when it was 12 per cent above the average of 1910-14. In most of the years from 1896 to 1915 per capita production was above the average. The highest point, however, reached since 1915 has been the average of the five years mentioned, and this was done in 1917 and apparently in 1920. Notwithstanding the great mass of the crops of 1920, they are, after all, no greater than the average when compared with the great mass of an increasing population.

Warns Housewives Against Use Of Canning Compounds.

The United States Department of Agriculture warns housewives against the use of any preservative powder or canning compound in home canning. Their use encourages careless and uncleanly work, and in large amounts they may have serious effects upon digestion and health. It is entirely practicable to put up fruits and vegetables so that they will keep indefinitely by processing the products with heat. There is no reason for risk by the use of canning powders. Boric or salicylic acid is the basis of most canning compounds on the market to-day. The directions on the packages usually call for one teaspoon of the compound to each quart of fruit or vegetable. The use of boric and salicylic acid, since they may be harmful to health, is regarded by the Department of Agriculture as a violation of the Federal Food and Drugs Act. The laws of many States also prohibit the sale of foods containing boric or salicylic acid.

Wants Predatory Animals Spared To Exercise Dogs.

It's hard to please everybody. Even efficiency has its drawbacks. Now comes a complaint from a rancher at Antelope, Oreg., that the Government hunters in that section of the country are so effectively carrying on their warfare against predatory animals—coyotes, particularly—that he is put to it to find exercise for the dogs.

Officials of the Bureau of Biological Survey, United States Department of Agriculture, who have charge of the work of making the ranges free from destructive animals, look upon this knock as a particularly good boost, in view of the fact that this part of the country is considered especially infested with such enemies. It is an instance of the notable work being done by the bureau's corps of hunters and trappers in the important live-stock ranges of the West, where mountain lions, bobcats, bears, wolves and coyotes have been able to maintain their numbers, practically undiminished in spite of the best efforts of the settlers and ranchers.

There are between 400 or 500 of these skilled hunters. Last year they captured about 32,000 predatory animals and killed at least that many more by poisoning operations. As an example of the destruction done by owner declared that in less than three months he lost nearly 300 sheep worth $3,200 through depredations of six coyotes, which later were killed by Government hunters.

Kentucky once led in hemp production, but has turned to more profitable crops and relinquished the lead to Wisconsin, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. The Badger State cultivated 7,000 acres, while the country's total this year, followed by Minnesota, Michigan, Ohio, and California, with Kentucky sixth.

Crusade Against Moles Nets Farmers Profit From Skins

Mole skins obtained from animals killed in the crusade fostered by the Biological Survey, United States Department of Agriculture, against crop destroying animals have netted $50,000 to $60,000 a year to farmers of Oregon and Washington. Moles and the many kinds of rodents do serious damage to grass and grain, and a campaign of extermination was started against them through cooperation of the Biological Survey and the States Relations Service. As a by-product of extermination the fur of the mole was found to be of value. The pelts of the northwestern mole is superior to that of the Scotch mole, which is generally used for fur garments. The northwestern moleskins have recently sold at from 50 to 60 cents apiece and have been in great demand.

The total annual damage by rodents to crops and grains in the United States is estimated roughly at $300,000,000. This is being cut down by systematic poisoning campaigns in various sections. The territory covered in these campaigns in the last year amounted to about 34,000,000 acres. The saving to crops in the destruction of moles and of such rodents as prairie dogs, ground squirrels, pocket gophers and jack rabbits is estimated to be $10,000,000 a year.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

PROHIBITION GAINS GROUND IN MEXICO

In Face of Strong Opposition Issue Looms Large For Drink Suppression.

Mexico City, Mex., Oct. 10 (By Mail).—Mexico is going thru a period similar to the Raines law days in New York. Drinking places are supposed to be closed on all holidays and from Saturday noon until Monday morning, but all sorts of devices are resorted to in the effort to evade the law.

Prohibitionists, who are gaining strength here, keep a watchful eye upon the cantinas, restaurants and hotels, and are quick to expose the frauds practiced to fill the till and cheer the thirsty.

Some of the newspapers, seeing this growing sentiment in favor of closing drinking places, have taken up the issue and are devoting much space to the evils of drink and the lawless characters of some of the city's resorts.

Can Be Had.

On Sunday it is still possible to buy liquor in certain places which are on good terms with the police. No exposure has yet been made of the manner in which these places get police "protection," but it is whispered that there is "graft" along lines exposed in New York and elsewhere during the blue-law days which preceded prohibition.

In some places, if you ask for tea and wink at the waiter you get brandy. If you ask for "ginger ale," also with a wink and a knowing smile, you get highball, served in a china cup.

The prohibition agitation has extended to Tampico and elsewhere. At Tampico, drink has caused much inconvenience to the oil companies. It is not common for large numbers of men to stay away from work on Monday to recover from the effects of dissipation on Sundays with the proceeds of the money received on Saturdays.

Is Hindrance To Work.

There is also much drinking during the week, and the Mexican laborer filled with mescal is worthless and often troublesome.

But the trouble due to drink is not confined to the Mexican workmen. Foreign mechanics, including Americans, who have been brought to Mexico at high salaries because of their skill or expert knowledge of certain crafts, lose much time because of drink. Some fall complete victims to the fascinating native drink, tequila. This has a potency, and enslaving power like that of absinthe, and the victims consume bottles of the fiery liquor in an amazingly short time. Sometimes they remain drunk for two or three weeks, doing no work and holding up operations because their skill is needed to direct forces of less able workmen. Sometimes they drag along thru sordid days drinking from hidden bottles of liquor and seeming to attend to their work but doing little of value.

"The 'open saloons' of Mexico have brought a multitude of American drinkers to Mexico. Many of these men could earn better wages in the United States. Even at Tampico, where the highest wages are paid because of the need of skillful workmen by the oil companies, the earnings of good mechanics are not better than in the United States, and the climate is extremely unhealthy.

Dry Ranks Grow.

While the ranks of the prohibitionists in Mexico are growing there is formidable opposition to the new "dry" measure enforced here. Keepers of drinking places everywhere are opposed to the order forcing them to close on the days on which they formerly did their most profitable business.

There is a substantial element allied with the "wets." Clubs do not want to close their bars on the days when their members have time to gather for friendly intercourse; hotels and restaurants do not wish to be compelled to refuse their patrons liquors on the days when their dining rooms are most frequented, and the patrons themselves object to being deprived of alcoholic beverages on holidays. And the patrons of the hotels and restaurants who enjoy a bottle of wine with their Sunday dinner include some men of great influence.

A koala, a rollypoly armful of gray fur, that looks like a Teddy bear, the first to be brought to this country, was one of the prize specimens. Dr. Josephs said it eats only the leaves of the eucalyptus tree and nearly a ton of these leaves were brought along from Australia.

The real belle of the party, however, was a spotted female dasyurus, another antipodean novelty. She carried nine young in her pouch.

LIQUOR BILLED AS SOAP DISCOVERED

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Characterized by many of the old "tipplers" as having "a distinct bearish movement on the whisky board of trade," liquor disguised and labeled as soap, coming from Canada, made its appearance here today, according to federal officials. The liquor said by imbibers not to have the strength of "the old stuff," sold "cheap." A carload arrived on the "market" today, federal officials declared.

The discovery of a draft for $31,000 on a Louisville bank may disclose, federal officials said today, the purchaser of the recent shipment of whisky into Chicago which was delivered to the saloonkeeper "customers" and almost immediately thereafter stolen from the "customers" thru the connivance of men posing as city policemen.

Federal officials discovered that the $31,000 draft was for the purchase of 1,000 cases of whisky which corresponds to the amount of the shipment forming the chief feature of the investigation.

PUBLIC OPPOSES GOV'T OPERATION

Canvass of 5,154 Editors Shows
4,456 Communities Against Socialistic Experiment.

OPPOSITION GROWING

Eighty-seven Per Cent in 1920 as Against 83 Per Cent in 1919
Think Public is Opposed to Radicalism.

The American public is more intensely opposed to Government operation than it was a year ago, according to the newspaper editors of the country. Out of 5,154 editors replying to a questionnaire sent out by the Press Service Company of New York, 4,456, or 86 per cent, gave it as their judgment that the people of their communities were overwhelmingly against the Government competing in business with its own citizens.

In 1919 the Press Service Company conducted a similar canvass of editors on the government operation of railroads. That questionnaire showed that 83 per cent of the editors considered their communities against Government operation of public utilities.

Apparently, then, if editors estimate public opinion accurately, that opinion in a year, considered by communities, has swung 3 per cent farther away from socialistic experiments.

Eleven Million Circulation.

The combined circulation of the papers whose editors replied is 11,428,817, which means, according to the usual estimated ratio between circulation and readers, a constituency of at least 44,000,000. And this constituency is pretty evenly scattered throughout the country, no considerable section of any state being unrepresented. The estimate of opinion based on this thoroughly diffused 44 per cent of the country's population may, therefore, be considered a fair representation of the people as a whole.

Another feature of the result is its evident lack of partisan bias. The major political affiliations of the papers represented are fairly evenly divided, being 1,857 Republican and 1,350 Democratic. There are also 1,485 independent and 462 miscellaneous, including labor organs, etc.

How little the results are affected by the politics of the papers is shown in an analysis by sections. In the Southern section, for instance, where replies came from 65 Republican papers and 389 Democratic, the percentage against Government operation was 88; in the Great Lake section, with conditions reversed, 478 Republican and 155 Democratic, the opposition was 87 per cent.

Replies from the West, Middle West and Southwest show that it is a mistake to consider those sections vastly more favorable to radical Government experiments than the East. The radicals can get little comfort out of the 89 per cent of thumbs down—2 per cent above the average—in the Southwest, including Arkansas, Louisiana, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. Texas, once supposed to be much given to Government regulation experiments, returned 92 per cent of unfavorable replies. Out of the 244 editors replying from that state only three edited Republican papers. The 82 per cent opposition of the Northwest, including Iowa, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wyoming, and the 83 per cent veto of the Far West group, including Arizona, California, Idaho, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Colorado, Utah and Washington, are significant of the prevailing conservative sentiment on this question even in the more radical sections.

Judgment Apparently Unbiased.

The questionnaire closes with a request for the editor's personal opinion on certain concrete cases as follows:

"Do you personally believe that the Federal Government should own and operate competitive industries to provide: (a) Fertilizer? (b) Clothing? (c) Automobiles? (d) Farm implements? (e) Foodstuffs?"

Substantially all the editors who gave estimates of their readers' opinions also expressed their own by replying to this last question. Proof of considerable effort to avoid personal bias is found in the fact that in many cases the editor differed from the opinion he credited to his community. The percentage of "nos" ran: (a) 76; (b) 83; (c) 86; (d) 82; (e) 79.

While the questions were based on general principles involved in the Government participating in competitive business, the so-called Muscle Shoals Bill now before Congress was used as a concrete example of a Government operation scheme. Under this bill a Government-owned corporation would be given broad powers to operate and develop Government plants and properties. It would produce at Muscle Shoals various fertilizer products and sell them in competition with producers and merchants in the fertilizer business.

The strength of the opposition to Government operation is indicated by the replies from Alabama, where the Muscle Shoals war plant is and where, of course, there is intense interest and local pride in getting its expected peace-time operation under way at the earliest possible date. Fifty editors from that state replied, of whom 88 were opposed to Government operation, 8 in favor and 4 doubtful.

Feeding the Bedridden.

Administering liquid food or medicine to persons lying on their backs in bed is difficult, even for a trained nurse. A novel hospital drinking glass overcomes this difficulty, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The lower portion of the vessel is similar in shape to an ordinary tumbler. On top of this is a tapering hood, which is provided with an eccentrically placed, slanting opening. If not more than half filled the device can be held in a nearly horizontal position without spilling the contents.

How Fish Eat.

When a codfish eats it takes an oyster in its mouth, cracks the shell, digests the meat, and ejects the shell. Crabs crack the shells of their smaller neighbors and suck out their meat. This accounts for the mounds of shells which are found beneath the waves. And, as further illustrating the constant destruction going on in the oceans' depth, it is said that if a ship sinks at sea it will be eaten by the fish with the exception of its metal portions.

Simple Explanation.

Why is it that fishes make no disturbance when swimming through the water, although there is a rushing noise when a stone is flung in? This is explained by the fact that, in the latter case, it is the filling of the cavity that is made, rather than the mere impact, which causes the noise, whereas the body of the fish is so shaped that when it moves through the water it leaves no such cavity behind it and therefore there is no disturbance.

That Busy Stork.

Elizabeth is a clever, observing little girl. A few months ago a baby brother came into the family, and it was duly explained to her that the stork brought it. On her birthday, when she was admitted to the room where her gifts were displayed, she spied a large doll sitting on a little chair. She regarded it attentively for a moment, then remarked as if to herself: "If that stork hasn't been here again!"

Pin and Candle Auction.

The many centuries old custom of letting, "Poor Folk's Closes" every fifth year has again been observed at Old Bolingbroke, where Henry IV. was born in 1366. The biddings cease when a pin inserted in a burning candle falls. The field, three acres, was let for £12 10s. For about twenty years it has not made more than £5.—London Daily Mail.

"Tempus Fugit."

The teacher gave Margaret some yarn and cardboard, and after showing her how to work a design, told her to finish it at home. When she came to school the next day with the half-finished work, the teacher asked her why she had not finished it; if she had run out of yarn. "Oh, no," answered Margaret; "I just run'd out of time."

Reasons for Using Stone.

The forest rangers on Mount Rainier have a house on top of the mountains built of stone, whereas under usual conditions it is the custom to construct these buildings of wood. The proximity of the stone and the scarcity of wood and the difficulty of obtaining it from the lower levels is responsible for this departure.

A Failure in Life.

A sad story reaches us from Southwest London. It appears that a girl of twenty attempted suicide because she realized she was too old to write either a popular novel or a book of poems.—From Punch, London.

"Why didn't you send your man to mend my electric doorbell, as he promised?"

"He did go, madam, but as he rang three times and got no answer he concluded that there was nobody home."

France's war orphans comprise 2.50 per cent of her total population, latest government figures reveal.

DENTAL NOTICE.

Now is the time to have your Dental work attended to. Winter is coming with rain and snow which makes old teeth ache and abscess. Abscessed Teeth or "Gum Boils" are dangerous. You are continually swallowing this deadly poisoned pus. Each mouthful of food carries this infection into the stomach. It lowers vitality which invites cancer of the mouth, throat and stomach, Diphtheria, Tuberculosis, Pneumonia, Influenza, Typhoid, Brights Disease, rheumatism, Anemia and even death frequently results from continually swallowing pus.

A mouth containing decayed teeth is a poisonous laboratory, which sends a host of bacteria into the elementary tract. They multiply rapidly thus gain access to the lymphatic system and are carried to the distant organs. Soft spongy and bleeding gums give warning of approaching abscesses.

Kentucky Opposed To Government Operation

The Kentucky public is overwhelmingly opposed to radical government experiments according to the results of a questionnaire on the subject of government operation of industries sent out to the editors of this and the other states of the country. Of the 73 editors who replied, 68 or 91 per cent said that the citizens of their communities were opposed to the government going into business in competition with its citizens.

The questionnaire was sent out by the Press Service Company of New York City. While the inquiry was based on the general principle of government operation, the so-called Muscle Shoals bill now before Congress was used as a concrete example. Under this bill a government-owned corporation would be given power, among other things, to produce at Muscle Shoals various fertilizer products and sell them in competition with private manufacturers and dealers.

As to the wisdom of the government adopting this policy toward the fertilizer industry the editors were asked for their personal opinion. Of the 69 editors who gave an opinion on this point, 52 or 75 per cent were unqualifiedly opposed to the scheme. The political affiliations of the Kentucky papers whose editors answered the questionnaire were: Republican, 18; Democratic 41; Independent 11 and miscellaneous 3.

A summary of the results of the questionnaire from the country at large shows that this opposition to government operation is general. Out of 5154 editors replying, 4466 or 86 per cent voted their communities against the proposition. This is an increase of 3 per cent in the opposition as compared with the results of a similar questionnaire sent out by the Press Service Company a year ago in connection with the question of turning the railroads back to their owners.

The papers heard from in the present poll are 1557 Republican; 1350 Democratic; 1485 Independent and 462 miscellaneous. Not only did political bias play no part in the replies but sectional differences seem to have no appreciable effect on the result. The combined circulation of the papers whose editors replied is 11,428,817, which means a constituency of at least 44,000,000 readers

PROTECT AUTO TIRES FROM HARD JOLTS

One of the hardest things for a motorist to understand is that a tire frequently suffers serious injury when bumped against a curbstone. Because the tire shows no external damage, the owner is likely to feel that the tire is defective if some time later it blows out as a result of the bump.

All the ingenuity of the skilled tire engineer will never be able to make a tire that is comfortable to ride on and at the same time able to stand up under mistreatment of this sort, says the United States Tire Company. If a driver wants to bang his tires around, he will find it more economical to equip with old-fashioned iron tires than with rubber. A rubber tire will stand a great deal; it will deliver thousands of miles of service over rough roads. But it frequently undergoes internal rupture when given unduly harsh treatment, such as being bumped against a curb. The breakdown is not due to faulty construction but to shabby treatment.

Trucks equipped with pneumatics should be especially careful to avoid this sort of damage to their tires. A truck in backing up to a curb to discharge a load will often crash into a curbstone. The weight of the truck combined with the tonnage of its cargo, causes an especially damaging blow to the tire. Curbstone ruptures of this sort in big pneumatics usually cause the tire to blow just above the head.

Muskkrat hides, once worth about 36 cents, sold for $7.50 at the St. Louis fur auction last spring, the United States Department of Agriculture reports in a recent circular. Fur buyers say the supply of muskrat skins in the market is decreasing at the rate of 50 per cent a year.

SUGAR PROFITS HUGE.

As full statistics come to public notice there will be plain evidence of enormous profits piled up by the food, clothing and other barons as a result of the recent orgy of high prices. The report of the Punta Allegre Sugar Co., for the last year shows a surplus, after all taxes and charges, of $6,700,000, as compared to $1,600,000 the previous year. Yet on all sides we heard cries of "due to the war," "increased cost of labor," "higher transportation," etc. The profiteers had the consumer by the throat and it was either pay the high prices or do without. Now, when sugar prices are from 10 to 15 cents a pound, the profiteers are squealing because of their "losses."

OLD AND FAMOUS WED.

Camille Flammarion and Anatole France, two of the most famous men in France, 73 and 76 years old respectively, have recently entered the state of connubial bliss. Flammarion, whose fame as an astronomer is worldwide, married Mile. Gabrielle Renaudot, who collaborated with him in the writing of some of his best-known works. Anatole France, the author of "Thias" and by many considered the first of living writers, married Mile. Emma de Provotte. At Tours, where the ceremony was performed, the aged author received an ovation from the citizens.

Some times when seeking a brilliant epigram, the amateur ad writer puts forth a double meaning that hurts. This for instance, "My eggs can't be beat."

The employee who is eternally looking for a row.

The employer who thinks no one can do anything right but himself.

The merchant who thinks he is the best buyer in town. And—

The "business man" who knows that advertising is a waste of money.
